Services at All Saint's Church

All Saint's Church Services were well attended last Sunday, quite a number coming from Burdett, among them were several nice singers one voice amongst them being especially noticed as being very touching and sweet, may we often hear it.

The Services were taken by the Rev. F. R. B. Leacroft from Taber, who took as his subject for the sermon, part of the 14th chapter of Exodus and the 2nd. verse, the words quoted were: "between Migdol and the sea," showing the time when the Israelites were pursued by the hosts of Pharaoh when they were at Migdol and the Red Sea was in front of them and they thought they were lost; and Rev. Leacroft showed the similarity of the position of the Israelites then and the position of most of us today, we are like them, also being filled with fear and trouble of our enemies and dismay of a dark looking future but we never need to be afraid, if we will only turn and implore aid of our Heavenly Father who is able today to open up a path of safety for us as He was when He opened up that path of safety for the Israelites by dividing the Red Sea, so that the Israelites escaped safely from their enemies and when their enemies followed after them into the sea then God caused the waters to be let down again and all of these enemies that did follow them, were drowned.

The Rev. F. R. B. Leacroft can surely give a most impressive sermon and all ears were keyed to rapid attention to hear every word he spoke--those are the kind of deep, thoughtful and at the same time, rousing sermons that appeals to the majority of the hearts of the people.

May God richly endow the preacher with all blessings in the good work that he loves.

Announcement was made that the Harvest Thanksgiving Services will be held on Sunday the 29th, October, and an invitation was given to anyone who could, to give Offerings for the Church for these Services, to glorify God.

Holy Communion will be celebrated at the Morning Service at 11 a.m. Everyone is heartily invited to attend these Services.

Aggressive Immigration Policy Will Be Launched By Federal Government

Ottawa—Canada has vast virgin lands calling for men of brawn to help them yield their wealth. Canada has also large cities, with their special bread lines, which are each succeeding year calling for work to give them relief. These two calls have been keenly heard by the Federal Government, and a vigorous campaign will be launched almost immediately to people these lands and to abolish the bread lines which spell congested, overpopulated cities.

The Immigration policy of the King Government is announced. After hearing the well-considered views expressed by eminent men, last session, and after a careful personal investigation of conditions in Western Canada, Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, Immigration and Colonization, has made public his plan of campaign.

Careful selection of agricultural workers in the country of origin, and wise and considerate direction of those after their arrival in Canada, and until they get firmly established on the land are the main points. With this done, the great objective, "substantial citizenship of the immigrants," to use the words of the Prime Minister, can be readily achieved.

There will be close co-operation between the Federal Government and governments at every turn. Generous encouragement will also be given to the Canadian Colonization Association. Another feature of the policy is the plan of bringing to Canada carefully selected boys and girls of the teens from Great Britain and planting them in rural homes of Canada.

Repatriation of many Canadian people who in recent years have gone to the New England states will also be expedited to the fullest extent.

Explorers Return to Halifax.
Halifax—A dispatch from Sydney states that the exploration schooner Howden, carrying Donald B. McMillan and party, arrived in the harbor Sept. 6, from Haffin Bay.

The expedition set out from Boston a year ago and has been in the Arctic regions since that time.

Do Not Credit Report.
Winnipeg—The charge made in Washington that United States coal had been sent into Western Canada and then reshipped into the United States at $23 a ton is not credited by prominent Winnipeg coal dealers.

Practice Is Condemned Of Handing Out Doles In Unemployment Cases

Ottawa—Condemning the practice of handing out unemployment doles, declaring that the peak of unemployment is now passed, and the additional means for dealing with it are necessary, and enunciating the principle that the problem of unemployment is primarily one of industry, and that every effort should be made in industry to prevent the occurrence of unemployment, the national conference on unemployment came to a close here.

Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, handed out two resolutions which had been passed unanimously by the conference. He was asked specifically with regard to the attitude of the conference on doles.

"The conference," he said, expressed the opinion that the practice of handing out doles is a wrong in principle and often harmful in effect, and should not be resorted to until all other measures have failed.

The first resolution handed to the press by Mr. Murdock which, he said, had received the unanimous endorsement of the conference, is as follows:

"In connection with the attention which has been given to this conference to the subject of unemployment, and the measures which may be deemed necessary by the public authorities in Canada to provide for the relief of unemployed persons, the conference hereby places on record, as an expression of its views, that the problem of unemployment is primarily one of industry and that every effort should be made in industry to prevent the occurrence of unemployment.

"It is recognized that the cause of unemployment in some cases may be outside of particular industries and in part due to causes which are international in character. These causes in every, were upon those engaged in

World Wheat Crop Smaller

Washington. — The world's wheat production this year will be less than it was last year, but considerably greater than the pre-war average, according to estimates made public by the United States Department of Agriculture. Estimates and condition reports from reporting centers indicate a yield this year of 3,019,326,000 bushels, compared with the production last year of 3,009,596,000 and the 1909-13 average of 2,990,353,000 bushels. Reports from all sources regarding Russia, said crop conditions were favorable and would feed the nation this year, eliminating the need of imported wheat.

Try to Prevent Strike

Hon. Jas. Murdock Appeals to Both Railways and Men
Ottawa.—Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, has intervened in the threatened nation-wide strike of Canadian railway shippers. In a message sent both to the Railway Association, representing the railway companies and the executive of the men's union, he suggested negotiation of the question of a permanent wage rate.

"Canada," he wrote on Saturday night to Charles Dickie, Montreal, Secretary of Division No. 4, Railway Employees' Department, "desires the railway companies to consider both to the Railway Association, representing the railway companies and the executive of the men's union, he suggested negotiation of the question of a permanent wage rate.

"Public interest demands in my view," he wrote tonight to C. E. Hill, General Secretary of the Canadian Railway Association, Montreal, "that the railway companies should have particular regard to the aspect of the board's findings which contains the recommendation that the question of a permanent wage rate should be taken up for further negotiation."

Alberta's Banner Crop

Wheat Yielding Up to Forty Bushels

New wheat arriving at the port of the country indicate that the average grade will be high, there having been so far no frost, no hail, and no extremes of dry or wet weather. Throughout the harvest season ideal conditions have prevailed.

It is reported from authoritative circles that while 25 bushels to the acre will be common, yields of 30, 35, 40 and 45 bushels an acre will be numerous. New wheat arriving at the Calgary inspection points so far has graded generally No. 1 Northern, but several cases of No. 1 Hard have passed through.

Parliament To Consider Extension Of Franchise To Natives Of India

U.S. Dollar At

Discount In Canada

Montreal.—The United States dollar is being quoted at a discount of one-quarter of one per cent. here. This is the first time in seven years the United States dollar has sold for less than par here. It is said in financial circles that on a very large amount, say $200,000, one-half of one per cent. discount will be demanded here. Various reasons are offered as the cause of the discount, but the one which is mostly justified, according to banking officials and financiers, is general prosperity in Canada. It was thought that the market had been engineered and the American dollar forced below par, but this is refuted by exchange brokers as being an impossibility owing to the strength of the American bank. It is also said the new American tariff might have had something to do with the exchange.

THE CROSS VERSUS THE CRESCENT

The Turkish Crescent has been pushed further into the Neutral Zone of the Dominion during the last few days, but no actual fighting has taken place against the Cross of all Christian nations, who are at the present time only represented and defended by the British troops alone.

The British troops have been reinforced, so that they now number about 30,000 to possibly 35,000 Turkish troops.

History making events now rest upon whether the Turkish troops will retire or still further advance and so perpetuate a big battle.

Which side it be—
—The Cross or the Crescent?

A Concession to Home Investors

In offering to receive the five and a-half per cent, Canadian Government Bonds maturing December 1st, at the same rate of interest as is carried by the maturing Bonds, and allowing a bonus of one month's interest, the Minister of Finance is making a material concession to the Canadian investor, as this rate is higher than was paid on the recent Canadian loan in New York. The high price of the security, which is the very best that can be offered in Canada, and the liberal rate of interest should lead to large investments in these Dominion Bonds. Attention is directed to the Official Advertisement giving details.

SWINGING ROUND THE BIG CIRCLE

THE Canadian Pacific Railway, a nation-wide institution, touches the life of Canada at all points. One of the primary requisites of its employees is to know Canada in all its aspects—not merely the conditions of the district in which they happen to live, but the conditions of the entire country. This is particularly the case with passenger department men, who, to be true friends of the travelling public, should have wide knowledge gained from actual residence and experience in different parts of the Dominion.

In order to give our officials this nation-wide outlook and experience, the Canadian Pacific swings them around the big circle once in a while. Men in the east go west and westerners come east. One such swing, together with some important promotions, are just announced by Mr. C. B. Foster, Passenger Traffic Manager of the company, from Vancouver (where he has been General Passenger Agent). Mr. H. W. Brodie (3) goes east to Montreal to become Assistant Passenger Traffic Manager.

Mr. W. H. Stoll (6) General Passenger Agent at Montreal, goes to take a similar position at Vancouver, and Mr. G. A. Walton (2), General Passenger Agent at Winnipeg, takes over Mr. Stoll's duties at Montreal.

Mr. R. R. Digby (8), District Passenger Agent at St. John, goes to be Assistant General Passenger Agent at Winnipeg, and Mr. W. B. Horder (4), who has been District Passenger Agent at Toronto, goes to be Assistant General Passenger Agent at Montreal, and Mr. G. B. Burpee (5), General Agent at Cleveland, Ohio, goes to be District Passenger Agent at St. John.

Federal Government Is Taking An Inventory Of Canada's Vacant Farm Lands

The Dominion of Canada, as one of the world's biggest land owners, is at present engaged in a general "taking" of the land still on hand in the prairie provinces.

For the guidance of future settlers, who are known as "classical surveys" are being made over large and partially settled areas under the auspices of the Topographical Survey Branch of the Department of the Interior, and from the results already obtained the new departure has been fully justified.

Specimens of soils are being collected over the area investigated and analyzed made at a soil laboratory established for this purpose at the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon. Thus the prospective homesteader may not only be informed as to the quality of the best soil, but also the crops which will yield the best returns.

The lands included under the new system are classified under one of the following heads:

- (1) Lands not open for homestead entry.
- (2) Lands suitable for immediate settlement.
- (3) Lands considered fair for settlement.
- (4) Lands which can be economically improved.
- (5) Lands requiring extensive improvement.
- (6) Hay meadows.
- (7) Grazing lands.
- (8) Lands of no agricultural value.

Classes Nos. 2, 4 and 5 contain an acreage of good soil, which, after clearing and improvement, will be equal in value to the average improved farm of the district. Class No. 3 contains from 20 to 40 acres of open or nearly open land, and are frequently good enough for the special needs of certain classes of settlers.

In newly settled districts homesteaders must devote practically all their limited clearings to the growth of grain crops. These are known as "cash" crops. For fodder dependence must be placed on the natural hay in the vicinity. Quarter sections classed as hay lands, contain meadows producing natural hay which may be cut in normal years. When settlers in the vicinity have cleared sufficient area to introduce a hay crop into their rotation, quarter sections now classed as hay lands may be put to other uses.

Quarters which, owing to inferior soil or broken and hilly surface, are unsuitable for homestead purposes, but which produce sufficient grass for summer pasture for the stock of adjoining homesteaders are classed as grazing lands.

Maps already published show the classification of lands by quarter sections for settlement purposes for the area in the vicinity of Winnipeg, Manitoba, the districts around Lac la Pêche, and northeast of Prince Albert, Saskatchewan; the Peace River district in Peace River Block, B.C.; part of the Peace River district, and the St. Paul des Metis district, Alberta. There are in course of preparation.

Canadian Manufacturers' Association Adopt New Slogan for Campaign

Not satisfied with boasting goods that were just "Made in Canada," the Canadian Manufacturers' Association has adopted a new slogan for its campaign—"Produced in Canada." The slogan is becoming familiar with this slogan and with the new sign, a dark green maple leaf on a light green background, bearing the text "Made in Canada" and "Produced in Canada." The association's campaign, which is being handled by the provincial division, is being conducted at 47 exhibitions and fairs from coast to coast, the Ontario division alone boasting it in 515 exhibitions and fairs.

Thrilling Story of Heroism

Convict in England Gains Freedom Through Attempt to Save Men From Drowning

The thrilling story of Thomas Gray's heroism in attempting to save a drowning prisoner of Peterhead Jail has a sequel in keeping with his courage—he has won his own freedom from prison. Gray, a convict in Peterhead Jail, under life sentence for the murder of a Glasgow woman, had served thirty years of his sentence when the incident in question occurred.

About a month ago Thomas Gray, Alfred Coates and other Peterhead prisoners were engaged loading stones beside a water-logged quarry hole at Slitfingh when Coates leaped into the hole, which contained fifty-five feet of water.

Coates had been sentenced to ten years of penal servitude, and was morally defective, and his sentence evidently was pressing on his mind. Gray at once threw off his coat, plunged in after him, gripped the drowning man, and made heroic efforts to save him. Those peering down into the hole were witnesses of a desperate fight, in which the lame was life or death. So violent were the struggles of Coates that he and his would-be rescuer were drawn under the water. Gray was compelled to relax his hold and come to the surface.

Thus Coates went to the doom he sought, and Gray—thoroughly exhausted—was saved from death by his friends, from Slitfingh.

At the inquiry Sheriff Lang warmly commended the action of Gray and Alexander. The former is now earning his liberty, and it is probable that the latter will receive some consideration from the authorities. Gray's crime of murder committed in a moment of passion when he was under the influence of drink.

Glass Disease Ruining Windows

Probably Due to Action of Acids in Soot

Until recently glass was thought to be the most enduring of all substances. From steel, iron, and other metals are destroyed by rust; rocks crumble away under the action of weather, but glass was affected by none of these destroying forces.

But not long ago an alarming discovery was made. The glorious stained glass windows of York Minster, England, many of which are six centuries old, were found to be in a bad state.

Some unknown disease had attacked the glass, causing it to flake away until it became as thin as paper. From the windows of York Minster, the old windows were saved by covering them with protecting sheets of parchment.

Then it was found that other cathedrals were suffering in the same way. The mysterious disease was rapidly eating away their old windows.

No one knows for certain the cause of this outbreak of glass disease, but it is probably due to the action of the acids contained in soot, of which the air of many cities is full.

H.M.S. Raleigh

It is three hundred and forty years ago since that very gallant seaman, after whom the founder of the navy was named, sailed, and his name is still a legend of the past passed through the very straits in which the disaster has taken place and laid the foundations of Britain's overseas empire.

From Elizabeth's courtier to King George's pride is a long pace, but in devotion to duty, in loyalty to his sovereign and in pride of country, the men of the Raleigh are blood brothers of the men who set out from Plymouth to do and die—Montreal Star.

Greenland a Healthy Country

Has Not Had Serious Epidemic in a Hundred Years

Greenland used to be thought of as a far away frozen country. Being considered unattractive as a place of habitation it did not attract much public interest. But as statistics are available through better means of communication, even the "icy mountains" do not look so distant. More than that, it is not far from the Canadian coast. Through Stefansson and other north country men a whole is losing much of its former terror.

The northerly country, which has world-wide notoriety through a line in a missionary hymn, belongs to Denmark. No one can land there without permission of that Government.

The Justin King and Queen visited Greenland last summer. It was the first visit in the two hundred years since the country became a Danish colony. The population consists of about 25,000 Eskimos, and a handful of Danes who went there for trading purposes something as the Hudson's Bay factor came to Canada. Englishmen are exceedingly scarce.

Very person asking to land in the country has to be medically inspected and be free from disease. This accounts in a great measure for the good health of the Eskimos. All the Eskimo tribes seem to be dying out except those in Greenland. There has not been a serious epidemic here in a hundred years.

The people live in settlements, of which there are 176. The capitals are Godthaab and Oodloona. An Englishman, a member of the Royal Geographical Society, who visited there, says that in the larger centers there are purebred Eskimo physicians and midwives, as well as native newspapers, and even an illustrated paper.

From Edmonton they proceeded through the Yellowknife Pass trail, taking the abandoned Grand Trunk Railway grade near the mountains and following it to Jasper. They picked up a half-breed, a well-known mountain guide, who was with them throughout the trip. At Jasper they took to the steel railway and jumped the line to Lacombe, resuming the abandoned grade one mile west of there and following it to Red Pass. There they took steel to the Lake of the Clouds and the old tote road thence to Alberta, steel to Blue River and Avolia, thence tote road to Lytton, steel and tote road to Hope and the Yale road to Vancouver, and then by Canadian Pacific ferry to Victoria.

The paddlers reached Victoria with blistered hands and sore muscles. They brushed and built miles of roads, crossed rivers, and some of which were good enough to be called permanent structures; they killed a fourteen-foot grizzly bear with a 205 rifle and took 300 pictures of the wild life of the trail, Rocky Mountain sheep, birds and so on.

From Edmonton to Elbow they struck one strip where they averaged only a mile an hour owing to the necessity of building brush trails and little bridges across muskrat country. It was on this period of the road that a great rainstorm came down and made a temporary mess of things.

Entering the mountains proper, they passed through marvellous country, presenting a variety of views which could not be surpassed in America. Mr. Niemeyer is familiar with the great motor highways of the world, and he says that the scenery they passed desert areas of sagebrush that were the same as the Great American desert; mountain scenery that rivalled Colorado and Yellowstone Park. A portion of the Thompson River canyon could well be called the Yellowstone of Canada. Great, brilliantly colored ravines and hills of rock and verdure, terrific cliffs and wonderful forests.

The car was driven on the rail. They then took steel to the Lake of the Clouds and the old tote road thence to Alberta, steel to Blue River and Avolia, thence tote road to Lytton, steel and tote road to Hope and the Yale road to Vancouver, and then by Canadian Pacific ferry to Victoria.

Thrilling Story Of Run

In Pathfinding Auto On Trip Through The Rockies

Completing the thrilling and at times hair-raising pathfinding run from Edmonton to Vancouver, the entire distance through Canadian territory, the Edmonton Automobile Club, C.W. Niemeyer and Frank Silverthorn, who ended their journey at Victoria recently, gave a graphic account of the trip.

They described their journey as one of marvellous beauty and remarkably hard work, but they said that they had opened the pathway to Edmonton and that the expenditure of but comparatively small amount of money would make it a permanent and pleasant trail for the tourist. They encountered mud, burned bridges, rough and rocky roads, railroad trains, windstorms and furious rains; but they came along with only three blow-outs and those caused by rail spikes.

Leaving Edmonton on the evening of June 17th, the car proceeded westward with a heavy load. The car weighed 1,800 pounds, carried two to four men and 1,000 pounds of baggage. The outfit consisted of picks and shovels, axes, hammers, four twelve-foot, ten-inch planks and several smaller pieces; a complete set of tools and spare parts; two spare tires and a spare wheel; fifty gallons of gas and five gallons of oil. They made the entire run on forty-one gallons of gas and six quarts of oil, and came every foot of the way on their own wheels.

They followed the old stagecoach route, taking the abandoned Grand Trunk Railway grade near the mountains and following it to Jasper.

They picked up a half-breed, a well-known mountain guide, who was with them throughout the trip. At Jasper they took to the steel railway and jumped the line to Lacombe, resuming the abandoned grade one mile west of there and following it to Red Pass.

roads, around curves and along precipices where the variation of a hair would have thrown them hundreds of feet to death. The car wheels straddled the rails, the quiet wheel being on the outer edge of the ties. The ties in many instances were projecting over a narrow space which fell straight to the roaring river.

At one point where erosion had worn away the tote road for some hundreds of feet they went down to the river and "leaded" a trail through the water, around a rocky point, and then back to the road. At another they found a rock as large as a house right in front. They had to cut their way around, through sheer rock. One section was a mass of fallen timber due to a great windstorm that came down on them. This was near Tete Jaune Cache. The car cut its way through. Everywhere they went they left a passable trail behind them.

They ran into many places, they say. They were proceeding on steel toward a tunnel, and had not been notified of an extra train. It came behind them, the rails and bearing it. Niemeyer took the only chance, swinging off against a pile of logs and being thrown and landing on his friends, but permitting the train free passage.

From Lacombe there were four men in the car. Niemeyer, Silverthorn, Hobbs and a guide named Charlie Nelson. In the Clearwater district they found a popular and quiet motor trip. It was in this section that they raised the grizzly bear. Niemeyer shot it with his rifle.

Speaking of the trip in general, Mr. Niemeyer said the route they took merely needed improvement to make it a popular and quiet motor trip. The stretch of the Cariboo Trail was as good road as he had ever driven on.

the door, four shots rang out and Lawson fell fatally wounded in front of his wife and his little 9 year-old daughter Pearl, the car then sped awayA posse of 75 police were soon on scouring the whole country around and Picarello was captured the next day while climbing the mountain side at Baltimore. The three policemen who offered the capture were Constables Broder, Clark and Tulin; when he was arrested, he is now in Lethbridge Jail awaiting trial and Mrs. Charles Lasandra has been arrested and is now in Calgary Jail awaiting trialPeople that try to "Get Rich Quick" seem to be allowed to run for a time but their course is often brought to a close with appalling suddenness and terrible consequencesAgain it is brought home to all people in this Picarello case that "God is not mocked" and that "The mills of God grind slowly but never the least most surely"Thinking of Constable S. O. Lawson who was treacherously murdered in Coleman, because he only did his duty and which we suppose the Government had wished in their hearts for him to do his duty; presuming that to be the case, then the Review certainly thinks, that the Government should give his sorrowing and helpless dependants, his poor widow and five helpless little children, an adequate Pension to live in decency on—or the widow for the rest of her life, or as long as she does not marry again and the poor children until such age as they are fitted educationally to earn their own livingFor Constable Lawson lost his life Doing his Duty and manfully striving to uphold the Law, upon which the very fabric of the Rights of Mankind hangs—his family therefore have no much claim on everyone of us, so that they are permanently provided against Want, as any soldier who lost his life on the battle-field defending his Motherland from the enemyWe do hope to hear soon that an Adequate Pension has been granted to his familyExercise Books

many beautiful paintings, and the President of the little college was called upon to respond to a toast.
Desiring to pay a compliment to the ladies present, he pointed to the paint-

"What need is there of these painted beauties when we have so many with us at the table?"Keep on MovingTwo frogs fell into a milk-pail deep.
And one poor frog did nothing but weep
He sank to the bottom as heavy as lead
And there in the morning they found fully. "What's that mean Judge?"

"That's the sentence you are acquit-

Sam said, "Judge? do dat mean I hab
